Activity Description

Reason for/Objectives of the activity: Participants who completed their basic training in Peace Building, Mentoring, and facilitation Skills demonstrate their understanding of the training received, as well as their training workshop skills, as a group.

Short Narrative summary of the outcomes of the activity: The members of the newly formed NGO (Klapmuts Peace Assemblers) completed their basic training in Peace Building, Mentoring, and Facilitation Skills in November 2018. In order to demonstrate their skills and knowledge obtained during the training period, they have to arrange and design their own training rollout, based on the acquired skills. This required that they plan a workshop on their own, including all the relevant processes, and present it to the different roleplayers. The group decided to address the conflict and trauma in their community, by introducing arts and culture, play therapy, and empowerment programmes for girls in their community. Topics covered: Aim of the workshop; learning outcomes; (group work) what are the main causes of teenage pregnancy and crime in Klapmuts; early signs of juvenile crime; crime prevention strategies; ice-breakers, ways to assist young girls in the community to become stronger and to stand in their power; play therapy; some fun ways to entertain the youth, as a means of disrupting the cycle of crime and violence in their community. The workshop was well executed, and the different roleplayers appreciated the insight and skill displayed by the members of the Klapmuts Peace Assemblers. Constructive feedback was given by trainers, and areas of development were identified. Number of attendees: 22

Recommendations or actions to be taken forward: Going forward, participants will use these skills to mentor the members of the new organisations formed, as well as other members of the Klapmuts community
